Word has reached the ears of Archie McKiver that his goat is in demand. Well, any time that any one wants to get this reporter all that is necessary is to agree on straight Marquis of Queensbury rules and the battle is on.

Chas. Butcher, a well-known South San Francisco business man, who has been a guest at El Verano Villa for several weeks for the benefit of his health, reports that he is feeling 100 per cent better and will soon be able to return home.

A delegation of Boyes Springs base-ball fans which went to San Francisco last week to see the beloved Seals go down to defeat at the hands of the Portland ducks, have returned home. The fans in the party were Dr. Parramore and wife, R. Lichenberg, J. W. Kelly and Postmaster A. D. Graham.

The school election here last Friday was a most exciting one. E. H. Cliff and A. C Chance being the contestants. The vote stood 26 to 36 in favor of Cliff, both candidates working stubbornly for the position. E. H. Cliff had his caravan running to the different houses in quest of stray votes, candidate Chance sat near the polls and looked wise while D. W. Corbin, the inspector, smoked to his heart's content, being at home once again sitting as an election officer. Edwin Faithful and T. H. Baines were the judges. To the writer it looked as though every woman voter in town was at the polls. Belle Brandon, formerly the pretty correspondent for the Index-Tribune was going to be a candidate but being called East to claim an estate concluded she would not bother with the thankless job. Taking it all in all it was a great election.

Harold Tracy, boss machinist over the apprentice boys at the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, was the guest of his brother here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cunningham of San Francisco are here spending several weeks. Mr. Cunningham is a well-known San Francisco politician.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Bomhoff were on a fishing excursion last Sunday at Embarcadero. They had a good day's fishing and a pleasant outing.

The Misses Cassidy of San Francisco were guests at a reunion held at the summer home of Frank Lahaye last Sunday. A number of other friends were present and a pleasant Sunday was had by all. The party returned home on the afternoon train.

Frank Watress' new automobile blew up one day last week and the owner is wondering how it all happened. Mr. Watress is beginning to think that he understands horses better than gas machines. The car is a wreck, but the driver is still much alive.

B. Freeman, proprietor of the Palace hotel, who has an electric cigar lighter attached to his automobile, seems to be lit up all the time, judging from the way the boys here call on him for a light at the S. P. depot every day. The lighter is some class.

Bill Devereaux is now located at Boyes Springs with seventeen aspirants for his Vallejo team under his wing. Bill will have about two weeks in which to choose his team, as the opening game will be played on April 19 at Fresno. The personnel of the training squad will change materially during the fortnight.

Ray Button, a society chap of Boyes, was out on the road last Sunday following a rig. It is rumored that Mr. Button has white hope aspirations and was trying his wind. Rawhide Kelly noticed the white hope coming up the road near Charley Miller's Villa and immediatly put in an application as manager and trainer.

Ollie Wilkinson and W. Bomhoff went trout fishing on the opening day and while whipping a nearby stream some practical joker untied the horse which conveyed them to the fishing grounds, and when they were ready to return the animal was missing. The tired anglers had no other recourse but to hoof it back home, where they arrived at a late hour to discover the animal standing at the gate awaiting their return. It was a good April fool joke, but the guilty wag had better lie low.

The ball game at Boyes Springs last Sunday was interesting although the score was large. The Vallejo team opposed a mixed nine from the Rai-Nuts of San Francisco and several Sonoma Valley boys. Jensen and Block were the home batteries for three innings and eight runs were scored A large crowd was present to witness the uneven game and the boys in the gallery kept the players working. Billy Block, "Easy Jim's" candidate for ball honors, seemed to be the most popular player, and when he did get to the bat he hit the ball. The pitcher tried hard to get wee Willie sleeping on first, but failed. Bill was on again, off again. Then he made a plunge for second, sliding six feet, and was again safe. Billy then got to third, cheered by the throng, and the game ended. The score: Rai Nuts, 3; Vallejos, 11. It was a slightly better game than that of last Sunday.

Geo. Weaver and Jake Steckmeyer got the limit of trout last Sunday. They were all beauties.

Charley Potter, the well-known roadmaster under Supervisor Weise, passed through here Monday to put in his monthly accounts with the Board of Supervisors now in session at Santa Rosa. The new official carries the dignity of his office with ease and was there with a high ball as he passed the El Verano station.

Tom Millerick and Geo. Carpenter, two rising young society chaps of this valley, were in the vicinity of Boyes Sunday with a beautiful outfit composed of top buggies, prancing steeds and two beautiful summer faries. As the boys passed through Lover's Lane it looked to the writer as if they were afraid of loosing their girls.

While the driver of one of Dr. Clampett's buggies of Glen Ellen was enjoying a social drink, last Sunday evening, in one of our road houses at Agua Caliente his horse broke loose, hit a telegraph pole, smashing the buggy and the the steed returned to the preacher's farm minus the coachman and wagon. Just the same the jehu had a highball and walked home.

The writer, who attended the baseball game at Boyes Sunday, would advise manager McDevitt of the Sonoma Colts to limber up their joints a little as they got around like a lot of government mules. By putting them through a process, mapped out by Joe Haden of the physical culture school at Verano they would be as fast as the other players.

Two of our rising young sports, who were fishing in the western foothills last Sunday, had a very exciting experience when they ran into a wild bull. They were John Basilou and John Boche, who had the scare of their lives and took shelter up a tree. Our barber on explaining the incident said that the fighting bull made him run so fast that his toes hurt. The boys returned half scared to death and claim that the bull held them up the tree for several hours. Both boys were able to be around Monday and claim they'll get that bull and will take a red handkerchief to coax the brute close enough so they can hit him with a sledge hammer.

THE LATE MICHAEL FRANCIS REDMOND

A Fitting Tribute to a Worthy Man by an Old Sonoma Valley Friend

The death took place on the afternoon of April 3d, 1913, at the R. J Dowdall residence, west of here, of Michael Francis Redmond in the 73d year of his age, fortified by the rites of the Holy Roman Catholic Church. He was the beloved husband of the late Mary J. Redmond, father of Mrs. R. J. Dowdall, Mrs. Camille Haslinger, Mrs. Emma Bertrand, Frank, Irvin, Howard and Harold Redmond and the late Mrs. Joseph J. Kearney. Throughout this valley the news of the death of this worthy citizen was learned with the deepest regret, where he had enjoyed widespread popularity and had been held in high esteem by all classes.

The deceased was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was a stone mason by trade. Leaving the green sward of his native country behind, whilst yet a boy, he crossed over to France and was, for some time, employed in the erection of the famous Louvre in Paris Thence he struck out for this, the chosen land of his countrymen, where, for over half a century, he worked at his trade in different States of the Union. Some twenty years ago he was connected prominently with the construction of the Home for the Feeble Minded in this valley.

The funeral, which took place from the residence of deceased's son-in-law, Mr. R. J. Dowdall, was in itself a touching tribute of the affectionate esteem in which he was held The interment took place in the Catholic Cemetery at Sonoma, Rev. Father T. J. Comerford officiating.

The remorseless scythe has cut down no citizen more loyal, more patriotic, than Mike Redmond, Irish by birth, but intensely American in every thought and deed.

Farewell! dear friend. May the sod rest lightly o'er your head far away from the scenes of your childhood hard by the banks of the sparkling Liffey and may our Republic know full many as true and loyal a citizen as you have been as the years roll by.

"Molliter ossa quiescant et requiescat in pace."

It was decided to erect a dance platform in the Plaza for the occasion. Many other special attractions for the celebration were talked over, the details of which will be announced later.

The New Democratic Tariff Bill

The new Democratic Tariff bill, having for its purpose the lowering of the cost of living and shifting the burden of taxation from the masses of consumers to the backs of the wealthy, is one of the most far reaching and dastric measures passed by the Congress since the days of the Civil war.

Here are some of the reductions of the new tariff which will amply illustrate, from a Democratic standpoint, its far-reaching effect:

Food—All duty is removed from fresh and prepared meats. This means that meat from Argentine Republic will be importable to compete with the products of American packers. Biscuits, wafers and bread will be free, opening the markets of the world to every consumer and providing a formidable rival to the biscuit trust. The old Payne law joker remitted the duty on unsweetened biscuits, thereby preventing foreign importations because practically all biscuits and wafers contain some sugar.

Fruits—Citrus fruits, lemons, oranges, and grape fruit are reduced from 1½ to ½ percent per pound, thereby opening the markets of the Mediterranean to America. The old Payne law effectually prevented competition, limiting the citrus fruit supply to California and Florida. Fresh fruits will be cut from 25 cents to 10 cents per bushel, permitting importations from Canada and the tropics.

Fresh, preserved and condensed milks are placed on the free list. Live poultry is cut from 3 cents to 1 cent per pound and dead poultry from 5 to 2 cents.

Cheese is reduced, particularly the cheaper grades, used by the average consumer. On articles of general produce the duty is cut, in some instances, more than 100 per cent.

Clothing—The wool schedule is the most heavily cut item in the whole tariff act and means better clothing and wool furnishings at a greatly reduced cost. In some costs the duty on woolen garments is cut 180 per cent. The duty on woolen clothing in the new tariff will enable the consumer to purchase for $8 a suit of clothes for which he now pays $10. The reduction in the cut on higher priced clothing has been at equal ration. Woolen sox and underwear, mufflers and gloves will be imported at prices much cheaper than now prevails. Cotton clothing of all kinds, including underclothing, is cut 100 per cent.

Leather—All leather goods except dress gloves are put on the free list thereby forcing American manufacturers of shoes to compete with foreign makers. Even the reduction on dress gloves will cheapen their prices on an average of 50 cents per pair. Workingmen's gloves are put on the free list.

Fuel—Bituminous and anthracite coal is free and this will permit large importations on England, Welsh and Canadian coal.

Miscellaneous—The consumer will be able to purchase excellent foreign paints at very low prices. Soaps are cut from 20 to 5 per cent, forcing American soap makers to either lower the pricee of their products or increase the size of the cakes.

The duty on household furniture is cut from 35 to 15 per cent, thereby increasing importations of excellent foreign furniture.

All articles necessary to the farmer have been placed on the free list.

VINEBURG NEWS ITEMS

Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and About His Section of the Valley.

Louis Rouquie transacted business in San Francisco on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs Charles McDevitt of Sonoma visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Adolph Rubke and her mother are visiting in the Bay City this week.

Mrs. Forni of San Francisco was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto last week.

Mrs. Louis Rouquie was the guest of city friends Sunday and returned Monday evening.

Henry Frosch, formerly of this place but now residing in Richmond, was visiting here Sunday.

John Douglas celebrated his sixtieth birthday last Friday and looks as though he was good for sixty more.

Mesdames Grover Rubke, George Lowell and B E. Darling were visitors to the Exposition City on Wednesday.

Plowing is now going on in this section and the late rains have done much good to the vineyards and orchards.

John Robin, the well known chef of this place is still catering to the many patrons of Enrico Forni's Pleasant Villa.

Al Johnson, well known in this burg, was shaking hands with his friends here on Saturday last and all were glad to see him.

Edward Mitchell of San Francisco was looking after his property interests on the Hyde tract Tuesday and Wednesday.

Harry Andrieux o. Wingo was a visitor to Batto's Spur last Sunday. Of course he had to see his old friend Jim Small, as usual.

Miss Lottie Trauvetter of Huichica was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Trautvetter of the Brookside Poultry Farm, last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eph Cutter and son Cedric were fishing Sunday and from the looks of things they must have had good luck as they caught a number of striped bass.

James Dokter, a contractor of Portland, Oregon, but whose summer home is on the Hyde tract, was a visitor at Batto's spur unday. He was accompanied by Al. Bird.

His Honor, the Mayor, received eight complimentary votes at the school election from his lady friends but it is not his charming personality that wins the ladies' hearts It is his whiskers.

The handsome residence of Mr Ruitz of Buena Vista is nearing completion and it certainly is one of the attractions of that part of the valley. Ralph Murphy of Sonoma is the contractor and builder

Miss Adele Andrieux celebrated her birthday Monday. This popular and well-known young lady was the recipient of a number of dainty presents and the hearty congratulations of a large circle of friends.

T. Gander and Theodor Authonien spent Sunday fishing at the new landing at the head of Schell's slough. They had good luck and report that a number of the fair sex were there also trying their luck. "I wish I was a fish."

Fred. Lowell was a visitor at Batto's Spur last Sunday.

We congratulate pretty Belle Brandon on her good fortune, but Fannie Ferndale says that it is coming from Bodega Bay, but Minnie Madden says Belle's mother used to wash for John D. Rockfeller. If that's the case she will have to go to Helen Hunt for it.

There is no man in this part of the valley that has done more for the Huichica School District than Fred Batto and on Friday, April 4, the people showed their appreciation by electing him Trustee for the next three years by over two-thirds majority and they placed the right man in the right place.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Batto last Saturday morning and now a brand new baby boy has arrived to brighten their home.

As if on the wings of a dove
He came like a ray of light
Our parents' hearts to gladden,
Our home to make more bright;
Just like an angel's visit
Our baby brother came,
And we will always love him,
Sweet little Native Son.

Sister Emily.

Quite a large number of Native Sons from here attended the banquet given by Sonoma Parlor last Monday evening and all admit that Mayor Cummings was an ideal toastmaster. Those present were also delighted with the vocal solos rendered by Alfred Jensen and Fritz Helberg One of our prominent Natives failed ta attend because he lost his prepared speech. Too bad!

Horse Thief Abroad.

A horse thief recently levied tribute on the Bell ranch near Glen Ellen and got away with two fine animals. The horses disappeared some weeks ago and at first it was supposed they had strayed off to some remote place on the big ranch but after a thorough search it dawned upon the lessee of the ranch that the animals had been stolen. Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan has been appealed to and is now on the trail of the animals.

SONOMA VALLEY NEWS ITEMS.

As Reported by That Live Wire, Archibald McKiver, Who is Always Right There With the Goods.

Chris. Coates, a hobo carpenter, who blew in here several weeks ago and who has been working for contractor E. E. Harris, flew the coop the other day. Coates had quit working for Mr. Harris and claimed that he had a small job to do at Sonoma and asked the accommodating gentleman for the loan of his tools, and he was given the use of them and failed to return them. Coates also owed the Helvetia Hotel $15.00 for his board. A warrant was sworn out and officer Joe Ryan was immediately after the fugitive, but at this writing the man is still at large.

The writer notices in Happy's items from Glen Ellen in last week's issue of the Index-Tribune where Willie Block had his eyes more on the pretty and charming young ladies at Glen Ellen Sunday than on the ball game. That's just Willie, Happy, and believe Archie McKiver that that boy has got more lady admirers than any one else in Sonoma valley. How he does it is a mystery and the best of it is they are all good lookers and Billy being a good talker, good looking and quite a spender seems to hand out the talk that cops the prize.

A CONGRESSMAN WITHOUT A PARTY.

Representative Wm. Kent Explains to His Constituents That He is Neither a Republican, Democrat or Progressive

The people of the first Congressional District who elected me to Congress are entitled to know my stand in political matters at the incoming of the new Administration.

I stated explicitly during my campaign, while supporting Mr. Roosevelt that if Mr. Wilson should be elected, I hoped to be able to loyally work with him, as I had great confidence in his character, intelligence and point of view.

Subsequent to the election, I reiterated this statement.

President Wilson did me the honor of asking me to visit him at Trenton, at which time we discussed some of the most important issues that must come before the next Congress Without explicitly stating the positions he proposed to take, I was more than pleased with his clear-minded grasp of the situation and came away fortified in my belief that he and his administration would stand for progress and for legislation made necessary by changing conditions. In the appointment of his cabinet, he has given earnest of his intentions.

Among the members of that cabinet are several personal friends, whose views I know and endorse.

Every step taken by the administration to date must meet the approval of disinterested, forward looking men. The repudiation of dollar diplomacy in China, a plan of saddling the money of our bankers upon an unwilling people in the form of loans, with the implied guarantee of principal and interest at the point of American bayonets, is one great step in the right direction.

The spirit with which the new administration in handling the troublesome questions of patronage must also bring the confidence of the people. Although frankly Democratic, as must be expected, there is being made the effort to secure the best possible men for public positions.

There is a crisp definiteness about this administration that was entirely lacking in the previous one, and it seems to me my highest duty is to support it by every means in my power.

Not being a member of the Democratic party, I am not applying for patronage. Probably I should not be recognized if I did Many petitions and requests have come to me and I am making it a uniform practice to forward these petitions to those so having the appointments to make. I am not offering advice or acting as reference except when my opinion is desired.

I have stated publicly that I shall not join the progressive party in the House of Representatives. Some of us feel that it is better for the country that we should subordinate our own program and should endeavor to assist the administration in carrying out its program, rather than that we should seek to force upon the administration and the Democratic party our own ideas at the present time. Two programs, equally good, if put forward at the same time, must necessarily clog and hamper each other.

The vote of the country and the great Democratic majority seems to justify the thought that the responsibility is reposed in the President and his party and that if a small group of men unnecessarily demand that their own program be carried out, the cause of securing progressive legislation will be impeded. The time has not yet come when it seems necessary for the tail to attempt to wag the dog.

The State of California is peculiarly fortunate in this administration by reason by having in a position of power and influence, Franklin K. Lane, than whom California can boast no clearer-headed nor braver citizen, nor any man with more zeal and friendship for the State.

WILLIAM KENT

Billy Crabb, widely known as "Heidelberg Bill," Glen Ellen's Beau Brummel and all-around athlete, was married Thursday afternoon in Santa Rosa to Miss Florence Theirkoff. A grand reception was given them when they returned here on the evening's train.

An election for Grammar and High School trustees was held here last Friday afternoon. Those elected were as follows: Grammar School Trustee, Mrs. A. E. Cromwell, who defeated Mrs J Welz by a vote of 30 to 14; High School Trustees, Robt. P. Hill and Robt. A. Poppe. The re-election of Mrs. Cromwell shows the appreciation of our people of the good work done by her during her last term.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68¼ Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67¾ Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.
